OK, another end of the year message, Yay:

-It's gonna get cold, get ready.

-Council and staff have completed all of our scheduled work around the city, drainage and roads, all on time and under budget.

-Our coffers are full, all Police, Fire, and Boards fully funded and no tax increases. (Still lowest tax rate in the region...just sayin')

-Got some big drainage projects to do next year as we get funds in. No hurricane this year was great, so no more damage to existing drainage that needed repairs.

-Christmas Farmers Market tonight from 3pm to 7pm, and there will be the usual market this Saturday on Christmas Eve and next week on New Year's Eve. Go support our vendors who work so hard all year long, and have a hot cider!

-Lots of turmoil of late between some of the Village's leadership going on after a few years of great relations. A few bad apples stirring the pot for nothing, and a lot of misinformation being spread by a few failed candidates looking for relevancy. Sad state of events, but we'll get through it. We were elected to lead and that's what we're doing, though it's hard sometimes.

-Thanks to all our Council, our Board volunteers and Staff for their hard work all year. Couldn't have done without ya'll.

That's all I got. Been a challenging year, but we made it through in great shape considering.

Thankful to live in Hunters Creek and Thankful for all the support.

Merry Christmas, Happy Hanukkah!
